It will be seen that to me, such criticisms as some of those he in every election precinct in the county received were wholly unworthy of any reexcept one, we have reduced the Demo-East and West. I fully endeavored to vincratic majorities, and in some of them digate the humble claims of one, who bore the reputation of being trust worthy, and who I have always regarded as an honest man. The collateral circumstances, attending the position and quality of the former Holy Stone, must settle beyond a doubt, to any candid and convincible mind, the geouineness claimed for it. These were never brought before the public, simply because the parties acquainted with them did not care to commit themselves to such polite, tender mercy, and respectable maltreating as fell upon the unhappy head of poor Wyrick. At this late day, we need not defend the man. His more recent discovery is a much more remarkable one, and inasmuch as this relic was found in the presence, and with the assistance of credible and competent witness-

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing; lot its morits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgament of a physician, concerning the virtues of Bastatics of this medicine which are annually seld in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for disances of the digestive organs, such as diarrho, dynepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from decangement of those portions of the system. Inpectine -- The Persian Fever Charm

En pectine -- The Persian Fever Charm'
For the prevention and cups of Fever and Ague and Rilious Fevers. This wonderful remedy was brought to the knowledge of the present proprietors by a fright who has been a great traveler in Persia and the Hely Land.

Wille going down the river Euphrales, he experienced a severe attack of Fever and Agle. On discovering his condition, one of the Boatmen took from his person an Amilet, saying, "West this and as Feer will took you." Allongh incredulous as to its virtues; he compiled, and experienced immediate relief, and has since always found it an effection from all malarious compliants.

On further investigation he found that the boatman attributed to it mercaless powers, and said that it could only be obtained from the Priess of the Sun.—Sometime afterwards, the gentleman in conversing with a Priest obtained from him the secretofits preparation, and ascertained where the medicinal herbs were found, of which it was compounded. The wonderful virtues of this article have launced a full belief in the minds of the nativesian the mirroulous heating powers of their Priests.

Since his return to America, it has been tried with the happliest effect by several Ladies and Gentlemen of high character, who have given it the most unqualified praise. This remedy having been a specific in Persia for hundreds of years, for the prevention and cure of Fever and Ague and Billous Fevers—is now offered to the American psopile.

It will be soutely until, prepaid, with full directions for use, on receipt of one dollar.

"The blood is the life," says Scripture; so says' Science also. Expsi corruption from the blood and no disease can exist in the system. My Blood Pills and Parhier perform their task effectually. They are powerful vegetable delergents, and cure all forms of disease, whicarise from impure blood, simply because they remove the common causes of disease from the life sustaining fauld. Hence their apparently mirraculous cures of scrotnia, cruptions, tumors dypepsis, liver complaints, rheumatiam, swelling of the joints, and all affections of the internationgaus, which do not proceed from maiformation.
